

Feng Shui Mastery

Business Module

WEEK THREE
Business Workbook

The South West Gua represents:

Business Partners
Suppliers, Contracts & Human Resources

Journal here:

What do your overall business relationships look like for you?

How do your relationships with your suppliers feel like for you?

Create your own affirmations here based on the relationships that you would like to see formed, the improvements that you would like to have in this area, the new specific suppliers, clients and connections that you would like to make in your business

Journal your thoughts after watching the training here:

What actions to I need to take this week for this gua?

NOTES:

The WEST GUA represents:

Creativity, Communication, Productivity and Marketing

Your employees (and your) ability to problem solve, get along and complete projects.

How are your creativity levels in your business?

How does your communication about your business flow for you?

How would you rate your business productivity? For yourself and your employees?

How effective do you feel your marketing is for your business?

Create your own affirmations for your business about improving and how you would like to see each of these area in your business blossom.

Journal your thoughts here after watching the training:

What actions to I need to take this week for this gua?

How can I use the power number to help me in my business?

What are my colours?

What directions are my power directions?
